Red—Blue . . . You

The CLASSIC
Form of Prep

Prep's "Classic" form comes from not only the titles of excellence it wins in sports and academics but also from the patrioticism the students, faculty, and staff feel for the school and each other. When a macho football player can show his feelings at a Pep Rally and bring tears to the eyes of everyone listening, thats patriotism. For the first time in many years the forces of Prep have decided to work together, and this alone has allowed them to overcome barriers and laugh in the face of defeat.

We may lose a game or place second in a math competition, But as long as the patriot spirit rigns through the halls, Prep will be a classic.

Alfred, you finally caught them.

Jackson Prep: Red,

What does it mean? Let's take the phrase word by word.

Jackson Preparatory School—It's an obvious reference to the institute of secondary education found on Lakeland Drive in Flowood.

Red—The "advancing color" of the American Flag that is bright and warm. Also, the color symbolized courage and pride.

Blue—It is a color of the American Flag and of the cloudless daytime sky. It is a cool color that symbolizes loyalty and perfection.

You—a pronoun used in addressing someone with an unknown name. You is also the secret ingredient in making the phrase complete.

Now let's put all these words togehter and see what the phrase means. Jackson Prep: Red, Blue, and You: A school of people with courage, pride, loyalty, and a sense of perfection.

Leigh Edgar, Sarah Carlson, Lisa Slay, Debbie Ho, and Laura Daschbach stop and gas up before the game.

Another Exciting Year

It's 6:30 am. Most of us are up by now, but the dread of Monday morning makes you want to crawl back in bed. The trip to the mirror scares you awake . . . wide awake! Morning rituals are completed, and you attempt to survive morning traffic and get to school on time. Yeah, you made it with minutes to spare. How far are you going to make it down the hall before you stop to talk to friends? Quick, run to class. Two hours drag by before Activity period. Students then scatter to the cafeteria, library, halls, and various classrooms until third period. Activity Periods include occasional assemblies, club meetings, pep rallies, and socializing and studying time. Lunch is eaten in the cafeteria while others search for an empty table or bench. Beware of the bees! After six classes varying from English to Typing and Art, students are ready to head home or stay for after school practices. Weekends are spent at Nowhere, Krystal, and Northpark. Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Break provide some relief to students and bring summer a little closer. Plans of Europe, Florida, and the Bahamas are made as students say goodbye until next year.

Alan Taylor displays his latest look as Prep's prominent king of fads and fashions.

Homecoming:

Excitement in the Air!

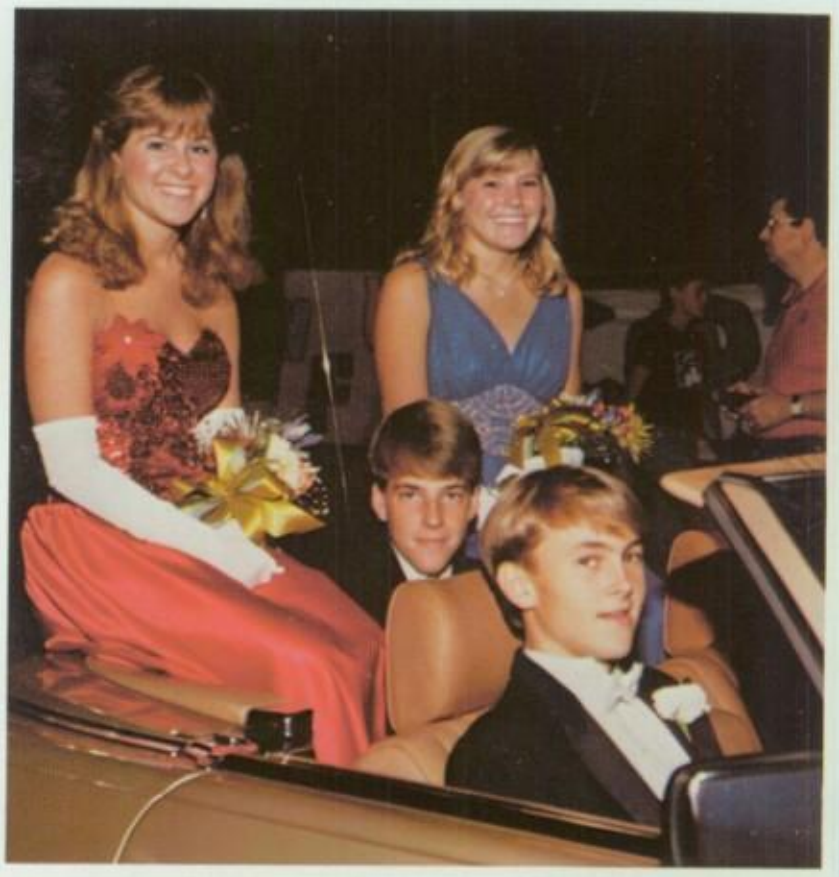
Homecoming excitement was in the air Friday night with the Homecoming game against Copiah, and the crowning of this year's queen. Senior maids this year were Mandy McNames, Janie Holman, Mary Preston Hays, Lyn Draughn, and Misti McMullan. This year's junior maids were Jennifer Fortner, Missy Neville, and Stacy Stribling. Sophomore maids included Peggy Emerson and Allison Watts.

The Homecoming maids and their escorts were brought in style to the game in different types of convertibles. Anticipation mounted as half time drew near. The Pacers did their fantastic "Runaway" routine, and the band, once again, gave a superb performance. The maids, and their escorts were then presented to the packed audience. This year's Homecoming Queen was senior maid Lyn Draughn. Her escort was Ab Wilkinson.

Another excitement to the evening was the patriots win over Copiah Academy. Several outstanding records were set in this game. The patriots moved to number one in the Clarion Ledger/Jackson Daily News Academy poll, and quarterbacks David Saik and Allen Smith set a new Prep record of passing a combined 233 yards. Touchdowns were made by David Saik, Will Crosby, Darren Furman, and Joel Bishop to make the winning score of 28-14

The Homecoming Dance was exciting for all. Students decked out in their finest apparel and danced the night away with tunes by the Pilots. Homecoming '86 was a fun look back to the past and a view of the future!

Senior maids, Mary Preston Hays, Janie Holman, and Misti McMullan flash a grin before going onto the field.



Anticipating their first Homecoming Night, sophomores Allison Watts, Peggy Emerson, John Pearson, and Jeff Hollingsworth wait for the caravan.

Surprise and joy light Lyn Draughn's face while Valerie Hyde crowns her Homecoming Queen. Lyn's escort, Ab Wilkinson watches the ceremony.

A "Twist" in Time

This Junior couple demonstrates the winning move.

The 1986 Homecoming week was filled with activity from start to finish. During the week Juniors frantically tried to sell all of the Homecoming T-shirts to raise money for prom. By Wednesday, excitement was in the air at the Senior High Dance competition where students "twisted" to old hits in their poodle skirts and leather jackets and the Junior class came out on top. Thursday, the drama club performed a skit during activity period that took us back in time to Central High's 1950 Homecoming dance at "Jesse's Place". The 1986 Homecoming floats were all very original the Seniors took first place. Their award was announced at the pep rally on Friday during activity period. The cheerleaders dressed in the 50's cheerleader uniforms to fire up for the big game that night. The Homecoming Court was presented during the pep rally to the students, which only boosted the team's spirit even more. The climax of the pep rally was when the captains of the team and Coach Crosby said a few words to thank everyone for their support and to encourage them to be at the game that night to watch the Patriots slaughter the Copiah Colnels.

A Night of

The Stars

At 10:30 A.M. on Wednesday November 12, you could feel the excitement as the curtain went up and the 1986 beauties and beaux were presented to their classmates and parents. Each beautifully clad girl gracefully walked and turned as Phillip Hunter, emcee for the event, stated their hobbies and future goals. The beaux, dressed in tails and white tie took a broad step forward as their profiles were read. While the judges took a few minutes to make their tough decision on Most Beautiful and Most Handsome, the Who's Who awards were announced to the joy and surprise of both winners and their classmates. The Girls Show Choir closed the show with "If My Friends Could See Me Now" as Janie Holman, Most Beautiful, and Mary Preston Hays, Miss Jackson Prep, cried tears of joy.

Introducing The Stars

It was a night of stars, although the pageant was held at 10:30 a.m. The Who's Who winners all sparkled as their names were announced. Through the tears of the winners and the applause of the audience everyone could see that the right choices were made.

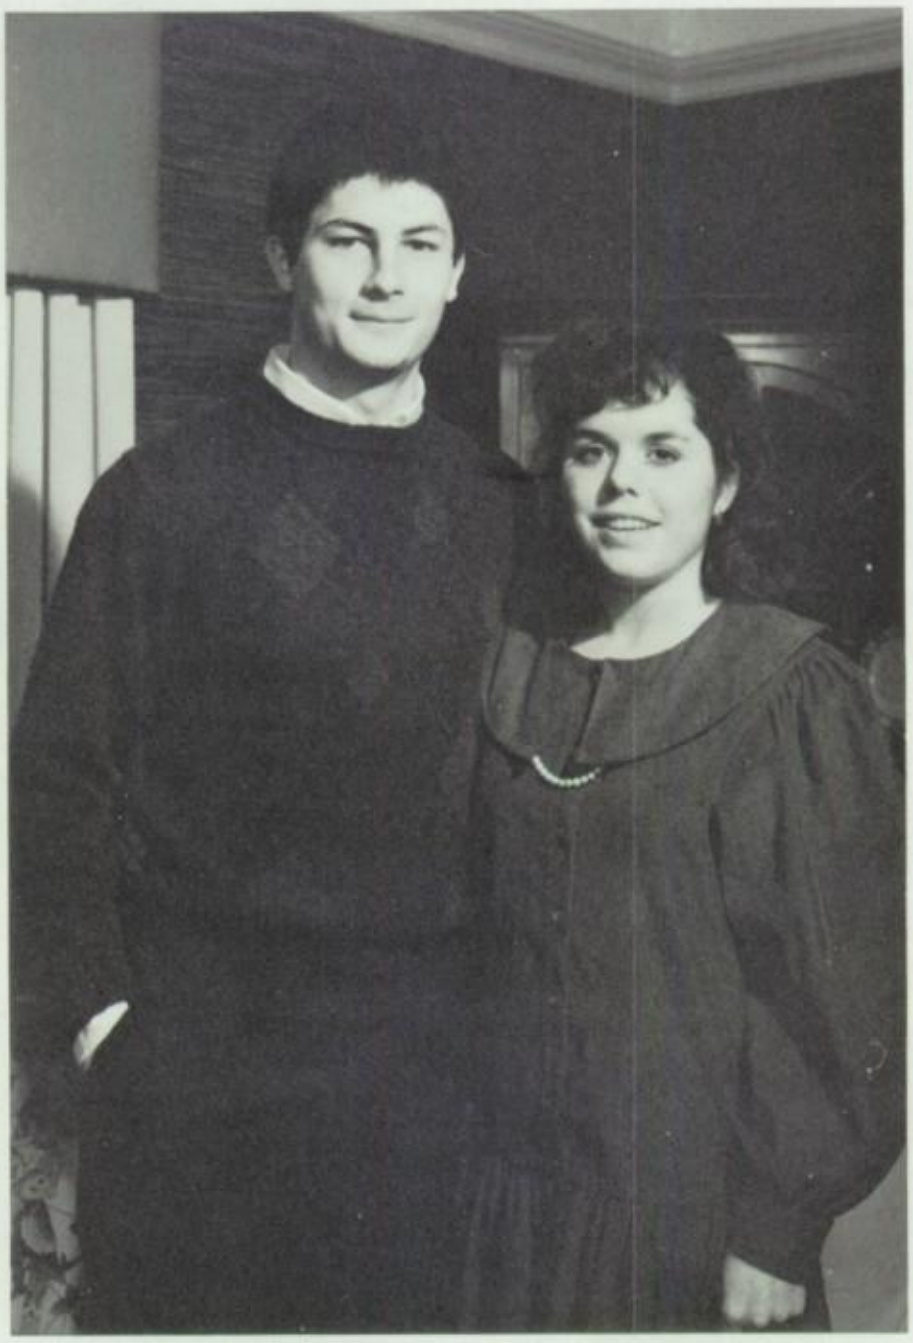
Wittiest: Sara Carlson and Alan Taylor

Most Versatile: Victor Smith and Debbie Ho

Friendliest: Lavelle Sullivan and Misti McMullin



Most Athletic: David Saik and Leigh Edgar

Most Charming: Jonathan Smith and Allison Hooker

A School of Awards and Honors

The best way to explain Prep's academics is by its accomplishment. With an ACT score of 34 Eric Chisolm attained the honor of Star Student of Mississippi. In every subject Prep students place either in the state or the district in the Academic Betterment Competition. Almost 50% of all Science fair participants placed in the Regional Fair. The social studies students had an impressive showing at the Youth Legislature as well as essay contests. The English students also performed well in many competitions with Eric Chisolm winning first place in the Mississippi Literary Competition. The math students showed their excellence by winning top honors at the Mississippi College Science and Math Competition as well as having three students make a perfect score on the math section of the ACT.

From this small sampling of the academic awards Prep students have earned, it is apparent that Prep has the best academic department a school could offer.

Administration

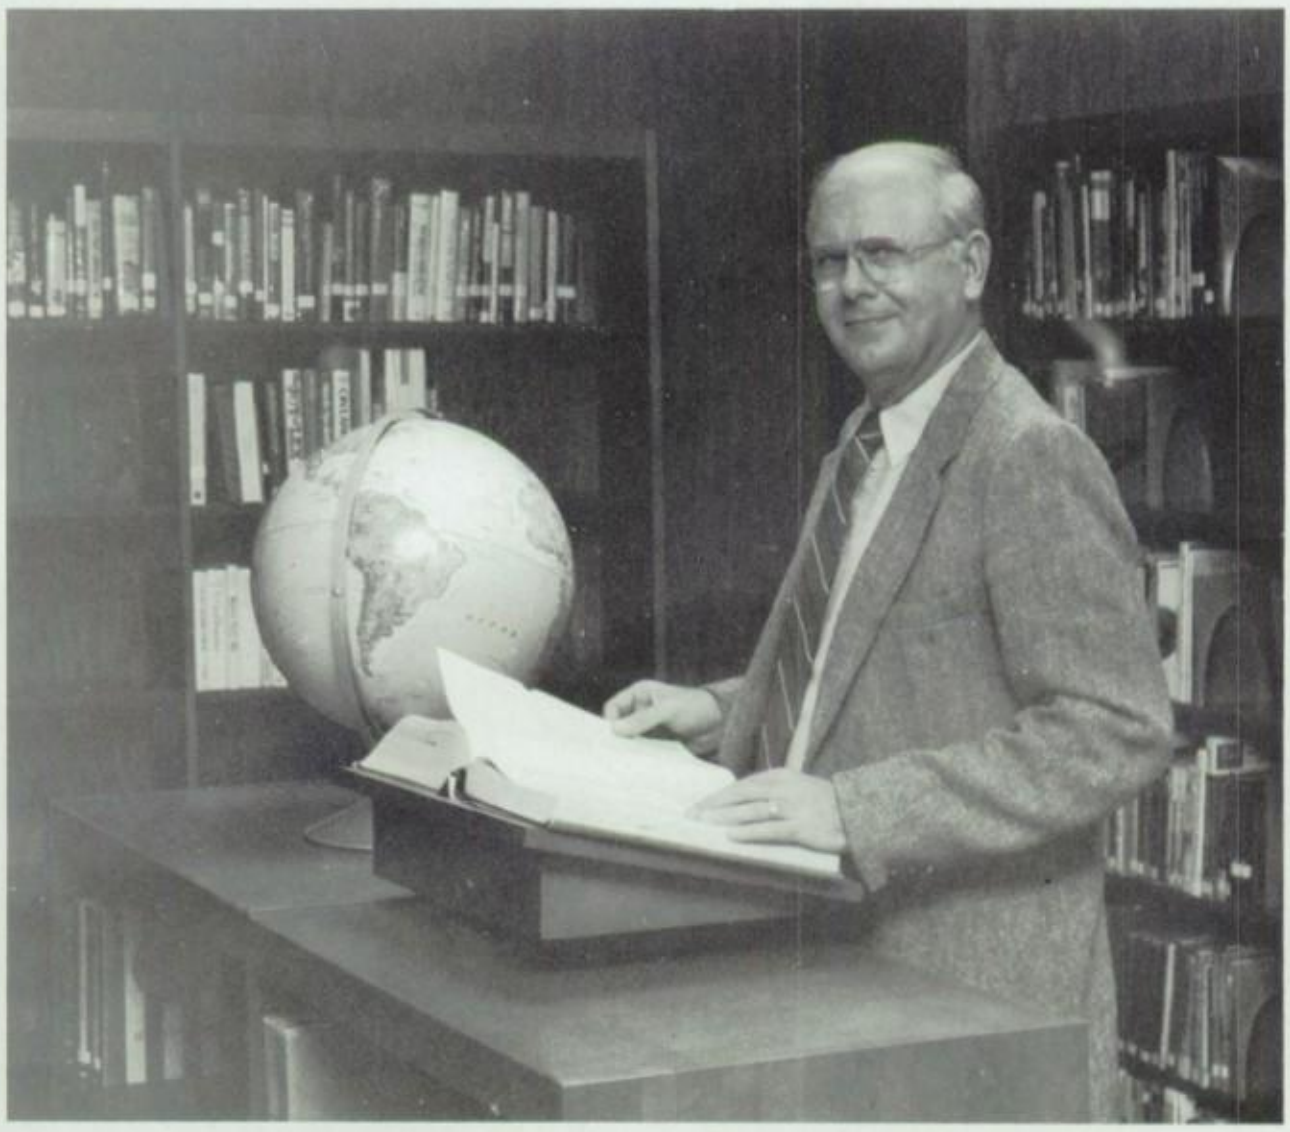
Leads the Way

Jackson Prep is fortunate to have such an excellent team of administrative workers. Headmaster Jesse Howell has shown his excellent leadership through another school year. Mr. Roberts, newly appointed this year as senior high principal, has done great adjusting to his new job. Also, the counselors, Mrs. Susan Lindsay and Miss Janet Smith, along with Coach Crosby have played a major part in helping students throughout the year.

The younger generation in the junior high was led successfully through the year by their new dean, Mr. Dan Roach and junior high counselor, M Sara Beth Jordan.

This qualified group of administrative leaders have led the way to success for Prep's students.

To assist a student in selecting a college, Mrs. Lindsay pulls out yet another helpful catalog.



Mr. Howell proves that being headmaster takes research into delicate matters.

The Working Foundation

Junior high secretary Miss Smith attempts to keep her desk clear.

The library and office workers served as the foundation for Jackson Prep. They are what kept the school running so smoothly. The senior high secretary, Mrs. Yates, performed many tasks daily like the morning announcements, which give the activities of the day. Also, in the office are Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Tate, and Mrs. Dalehite. Another, Mrs. Jeffreys, served as the counselor's secretary. Finally, in junior high, Miss Vera Smith showed not only her secretarial ability but also many other talents which allowed her to assist the students.

The librarians, Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Loper, were always ready to help students find "just the right book." Prep is fortunate to have had such an excellent library and library workers. As you can see, the library and office workers were the working foundation of Prep.

At the end of another day, Mrs. Jeffreys is still able to show a smile.

While doing her office work, Mrs. Yates shares a smile.

Patience!

The faculty have done an exceptional job once again this year. Grading papers, handling library books, and disciplining students, it's a wonder how they stay sane. Dedication and love of their jobs urge the faculty on in their strive to maintain excellence. Day in and day out, some lessons are taught for five times in a day, at times. Patient-worn faces are replaced by smiles. Each member of the faculty has his own trait. Dry jokes are often told to liven up the monotony of long days. Appreciated help sessions and assistence with outside projects are given timelessly. They offer unbiased views on life. At the end of the day they are free to be human once again, whether it's climbing trees or riding motorcycles.

The Fine Arts

Art, Speech and Drama

Prep's fine arts classes of art, speech, and drama have led the way this year in the artistic excellence at Prep. Senior High art students enjoyed their year by completing several art projects which were displayed in the school throughout the year. Art students also participated in the Academic Art Excellence Competition in which many of Prep's outstanding art students were recognized. Junior High art students had an exciting year in which they completed and enjoyed many art projects. Prep's speech and drama classes spent the year giving speeches and demonstrations, acting out skits, and having fun. The Drama classes also organized and produced the great play: "The Prime Time Crime." This year's art, speech, and drama classes upheld Prep's history of excellence in the Fine Arts.

Singing All the Way To the Top!

The Choral department at Prep completed a very successful year. Under the direction of Terry Doremus, the senior high choir and show choir and the junior high choir and show choir kept very busy. The senior high choir participated in the MPSEA Choral Festival held at Prep, and received superior ratings. Their year was highlighted with a choir tour to Washington D.C. and Williamsburg. The senior high show choir performed at the Precis Pageant, the Mississippi State Fair, the University Club and many other luncheons and special events. The junior high choir represented Prep at the Westpoint Festival and the Junior high show choir performed at First Pres. and other places. All choirs took part in the Variety Show at Prep and performed at Mistletoe Marketplace, The Eudora Welty Library, and many other special activities. The choral department ended the year with their annual Spring Concert.

Natalya Hicks, Allyson Shive and Beth Durham performed in the junior high show choir. Others included: Michael Lindsay, Paul Smail, Rick Davis, Loria Elzen, Amanda Pruitt, Lisa Lefoldt, Mart McMullan, Clinton Dear, and Neilson Hubbard.

The senior high show choir this year was: back—Kim Smail, Christy Brumfield, Kristi Myers, Heather Goff, Ellen McCool, Amy Traub. front—Beth Cole, Sherry Shaw, Julie Povall, Jan Millican, Janie Holman.

"You've lost that lovin' feeling."

Mrs. Horne says, "Write—on" to English.

"Write—on"

"Write—on," is the phrase that best describes the English department at Prep this year. Leading the department, Mrs. Jan Horne explained that there was an increased emphasis placed on writing this year with the hope that students would become to feel more comfortable with their writing skills and abilities. She also stated that as students continue to examine their own writing, they develop an increased interest in both literature and grammar. Prep's English teachers without a doubt motivated students to reach these goals by having them take part in various activities and projects. These projects included keeping journals, creating their own coat of arms, writing short stories and poetry, participating in writing workshops, as well as peer evaluation and group response. The department has also continued in the advanced English classes. These classes begin at the ninth grade level and end the senior year with a college credit course. Prep also participated in the state literary competions this year and won many outstanding awards. The English department encourages students to reach their goals, to do their best work, and to "write—on."

During Ms. Wade's serious lecture, Zeita Parker finds some humor.

The English Department this year includes: Mrs. Rebecca King, Mrs. Carolyn Heidelberg, Mrs. Diane Arinder, Mrs. Patricia Mahan, Mrs. Jan Horne (department head) Mrs. Bonita Murphy, Mrs. Rhoda Yoder, Mrs. Gail Hammond, Mrs. Regina Galloway, and Mrs. Sarah Wade.

Mrs. King watches carefully as her students take one of her "killer" English tests.

"But Ms. Yoder, I just don't know how to do this," says Chase Hensen.

Preparing for the Future

In the broad spectrum of technology, having a good base with mathematics is of upmost importance. As head of the math department, Laura Lindell places much emphasis on the concept of mathematics. Prep enters many competitions each year that include both the Junior and Senior High. Examples of these competitions are the Ala-La-Miss competitions, the National Math Exam, the Mississippi College Math Exam and Science Competition and the ABC tests. Each year, Prep excells in all of these competitions by having a large number of winners. Overall, the emphasis placed on mathematics at Jackson Prep is preparing students for the future.

Ms. Jenkins manages to take time from her hectic schedule to help Leigh Edgar.

Jackson Prep's prestigious math faculty includes: Ms. Meridith May, Ms. Coleen Sowell, Ms. Margaret Smith, Bobby West, Ms. Kathy Hays, Ms. Beverly Harper, and Ms. Judy Jenkins.

Learning Through the Experience of Others

This year the history department has been very busy. Under the direction of Mrs. Orr, the department has not only taught history, it has let students experience it. Through various trips, students have seen how the government really works and how it feels to be a U.N. Delegate. Venturing as far as Washington D.C. or staying here in Mississippi, Jackson Prep students have participated in Close-Up, YMCA Youth legislature, MS Model Security Council, Project Business, and Applied Business. The history teachers have accomplished their goal of getting students to relate history to their lives through scholastic knowledge and real-life experience.

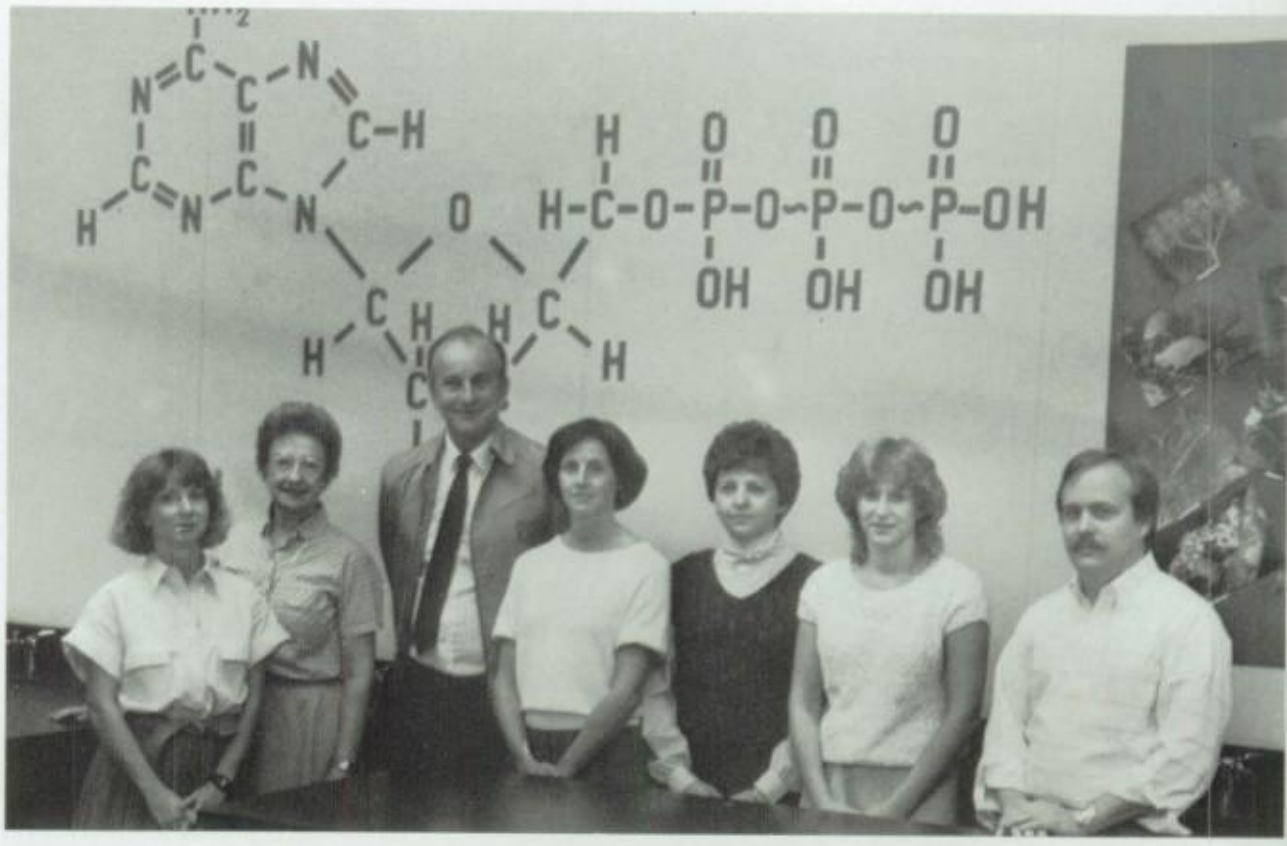
Mrs. Allen Cracks one of her famous smiles.

"HANDS ON" in Science

Some of the most challenging courses at Prep are in the fields of Chemistry, Biology, and Physics. The experiments students participated in kept the classes interesting. The Chemistry students bent glass and experimented with chemicals. Every Biology student looked toward the dissection day with mixed feelings. No Prep experience could be complete without one of the infamous "D-'s" in Physics.

Students excitedly entered and excelled in several competitions. They participated in the Mississippi Engineering Society competition, the MC Science and Math Competition, and the ABC Tests. Many students who participated in the Prep Science Fair also went on to excel in the Regional and State Fairs. These students have fulfilled department head Janice Cox's goal as they gained "Hands on" experience.



The "Science Brains" of Prep are Jeanne Marie Powers, Berneda Wilkinson, Keith Lassetter, Marion Wofford, Janice Cox, Debra Pelcher, and Joe Boswell.

Foreign Affairs

Jackson Prep once again upheld its tradition with another successful year in the foreign language department. First year students in French, Latin, and Spanish concentrated on the "building blocks" of the language which included basic grammar, vocabulary, and culture. Second year students advanced to conversations and translations, whereas broadening their knowledge on first year tools. As Mrs. Richardson put it, foreign affairs have proven to be "Que ano maravilloso!"

Foreign language teachers Mrs. Schweitzer, Mrs. Ricks, and Mrs. Richardson successfully make foreign languages come alive for their students.

Accounting for the Future

Accounting and typing are two of the most beneficial skills acquired during a student's career. Mrs. Linda Fenter and Miss Reta Buckley take on the responsibility of teaching these two difficult courses to students of all ages. Students are required to take a semester of typing at some point during high school, but accounting is an elective.

Accounting is the planning, keeping, analyzing and interpreting of financial records. In order to learn the accounting process, students must do terms and questions at the end of each chapter and complete exercises in their accounting workbook. Also, during third term students must work a business simulation which requires a student to recall all of his previous accounting principles.

The first step in typing is learning the keyboard. After students have mastered this requirement, they take speed drills which determine their grade in the course. They also learn the basic skills of spacing, punctuating, vertical and horizontal spacing and tabulation. Overall, accounting and typing are two skills designed to help students in the future.

Previews of the Future

Home Economics, Driver's Education, and Physical Education let students preview their futures. Students began to understand that they have to start doing things for themselves. In a few years, they will have to cook and clean for themselves, drive themselves everywhere, and keep fit.

Home Economics prepared students to cook, clean, relate to others, make decisions, understand children, and manage money. Driver's Education helped students learn the art of defensive driving. Meanwhile, Physical Education taught students how to keep fit. Every student learned that to succeed in life, everyone must learn the basics, these courses were a great start.

Organizations

Sam Dixon fills Karen Bowlus in on the requirements of being a slave.

Fulfilling a Variety of Interests

Jackson Prep offers numerous extra-curricular activities to students. The activities offered help students identify and expand their interests. The organizations include the different subject areas: writing, Civil Service, Religious and athletic groups.

In each of these organizations, students are able to excel in the area they are most interested in. Honor students participate in Mu Alpha Theta and National Honor Society. Alpha Sig Omega and Key Club are organizations in which the student body can participate in helping others. There is also the Art Club, Prep Players and Drama Club which are offered for the talented students.

All of the different organizations offered is evidence that Prep fulfills the variety of interests of the student body.

And The Beat Goes On

The 1986-87 Marching Band led off the year in style. With new band director James Sills, the band changed their style but many other qualities stayed the same. Endless hours of practice and dedication beginning with band camp and continuing throughout the fall were spent. In the end was the halftime show parents and students had come to appreciate. Led on the field by drum major Tommy Suttle, the band attended the state marching festival scoring excellent ratings for the performance and for drum major. A superior rating was awarded to the spotless group in inspection. Songs played included "Cavies," "Home," and the drum solo. The colorguard provided the visual flare synchronized to the music.

The girls experienced many unforgettable memories from such activities as their annual garage sale, their annual car wash, Thursday suppers, bus trips, a Florida vacation, and marching around the parking lot.

Some of the songs that the Pacers performed to this year were "Runaway," "R.O.C.K.," "Easy Lover," and "Championship." Additionally, the Pacers were awarded second place in the annual Mississippi State Fair Competition which added to the many other accomplishments accumulated throughout the year. Probably the most thrilling experience for the Pacers was the excitement found when performing before thousands of football fans. Additionally, the Pacers will forever remember the friendships forged with each other.

The Art of Communicating

The Latin and Spanish clubs, under the leadership of Mrs. Ricks and Mrs. Richardson, respectively, had another successful year at Prep. The Latin club or rather the Junior Classical League, held its own toga clad banquet as well as attending the JCL convention where they won several awards from Latin tests to chariot races. The Spanish club held several activity period meetings and had a Christmas party which included singing Christmas songs in Spanish. The Foreign Language clubs at Prep are designed to further the student's knowledge of the languages beyond classroom study and in the 1986-87 school these clubs did just that.

Building a Strong Foundation

Young Life, PSIA, and FCA

Two new organizations were formed this year at Prep to aid in spiritual and school guidance. Prep Students in Action (PSIA) consisted of two members of each class at Prep. They made special boards honoring outstanding students and teachers, decorated the foyer during holidays, and presented suggestions of students to Mr. Roberts and Mr. Howell.

Another new organization that kicked-off this year was Young Life. It is led by former Prep graduates Kathy Toler Presley, Ginger Veazey Tramell, and Bill Farrington. They, along with Kathy Farrington and Mike Tramell, held meetings every Monday at a Prep students house. They provided spiritual guidance and fun fellowship for all Prep students to enjoy.

An organization that has been a part of Prep life for a long time is Fellowship of Christian Athletes. This years officers consisted of Leigh Edgar, president, Hudson Bradford, vice-president, and Margaret Minor, secretary-treasurer. They did various fund raising such as a car wash to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy, and they also had many speakers such as former Prep graduates, Ken Toler and Jeff Noblin.

These organizations; FCA, Young Life, and PSIA contributed greatly to Prep's Life. They offered a time of fun and fellowship. However, they served as a fun learning experience most importantly.

Young Life members, Charlie Fry, Elizabeth Boone, and Amanda Bigham share a laugh.

The Dedicated Staff

Precis means to English majors a writing of "condensed main ideas and major details into a shortened but accurate version of the original work." To Precis staff members Precis means hard work, dedication, some laughs, long hours, and hectic deadlines.

The 1986-87 Precis staff was led by editor Donna Brown and assistant editor Elizabeth Boone, who worked diligently throughout the year to make each deadline on time. Mrs. Pelcher, advisor, helped organize deadline dates, and assignments. All the hard work that each member put in paid off when Precis won 3rd place for Best Design and the General Excellence Award for the yearbooks with 180 pages or more in the MSPA competition. The Precis has proved to be more than just a summary of the year.

The Sentry

"It's a Wonderful Day in Our Neighborhood"

The Sentry, Prep's award winning newspaper has often been defined as "a serious, hard-working bunch of animals." Led by Bruce Evans as Editor. The Sentry put out six issues during the school year, this year including a special April Fools Day issue. Each member was assigned special article and features, with some columns appearing in each issue. The Sentry enters several annual competitions each year. This years competitions included The Academy Press Association, National Scholastic Press Association, Mississippi Scholastic Press Association, Mississippi University for Women competition, and The Mississippi State University Competition. In each of these competitions the Sentry brought home an armload of top awards. One of the major highlights at the MSPA competition was when Sentry advisor and editor, Regina Galloway and Bruce Evans received Newspaper adviser and editor of the year. The Sentry is definitely full of character. In fact, they are the only organization which has a stuffed animal as a mascot. Yes Opus, the world famous Bloom County cartoon figure, is very much a part of Sentry life. The Sentry staff sums it up best by stating "its the late afternoon place to be!"

Mixing Business with Imagination

Throughout the years EARTHWINDS has provided an outlet for creative minds—from those who cherish their writing abilities to those who write for a hobby. The dedicated EARTHWINDS staff critiqued their way to a winning year. At a competition in March, 5 excellent awards were racked up, including the general excellence awards in only the first year of the literary magazine's participation of a statewide workshop. Several individual awards were also won.

Another popular organization is Business Club. Among other activities, they had monthly guest speakers in areas of interest in the business world. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Fenter and able leaders, Co-Presidents Steven Dear and Victor Smith, and program coordinators Allison Crestman and Warren Speed, the Business Club had another successful year.

SERVICE

Alpha Sig-Key Club

Alpha Sigma Omega, the girls service club, had a year full of activities. Among their list of accomplishments was opening the playroom for the sick children at the University Medical Center every Tuesday. The club also held a clothes drive for the Power House, a residence for homeless girls. The annual fashion show was held in December and clothes were provided by the Balcony and the Rogue.

The Key Club started their year off with the selling of programs at home football games. They also provided entertainment for the school with their first annual pie eating contest, and lastly they adopted a strip of land on Lakeland Drive to landscape it. Both clubs held the annual Alpha Sig-Key Club dance in May for the perfect ending to their year.

Science-Outing

Future Experiences

The Science Club, led by president Stanley Wen, participated in various science related activities throughout the year. Members helped science fair participants set up their projects, and attended field trips to medical centers. The science club also hosted guest speakers for assemblies during activity period. The Science Club had a successful year in teaching it's members how science relates to everyday life.

Outing Club activities include camping, canoeing, and many other outdoor projects. The club was organized by Mr. Dan Roach and Miss Marian Wofford. Besides enjoying the wonders of the great outdoors the club also invited speakers who have experienced outdoor activities. These speakers told stories of traveling through the wilderness. The members of the Science Club had a busy and fun year.

MAKING IT HAPPEN

We often watch fabulous productions with brilliant sound and lighting and wonder . . . what goes on behind the scenes to make these productions work? Simple, it is from the works of the Drama Club, Art Club, and the Sound and Lighting Crew.

The Drama Club, the Prep Players, was led by Mrs. Bonita Murphy. Their activities included putting on the Homecoming skit, hosting a Variety Show, and producing a play during the spring. This years production was The Prime Time Crime. Many students participated in this play about detectives who try to capture a phantom who has come to haunt the Schropshire manor. Fund raising activities for the club included the Variety Show, the play, and selling Easter candy throughout the school.

Without the help of the Sound and Lighting Crew these great drama productions would not have been possible. They worked long hours behind the scenes fixing the lighting and adjusting the sound. Led by Mr. Robert E. Lee, the crew helped with setting up assemblies and special programs, and also helping with the Band Fest.

The Art Club used their talents by painting backdrops and murals for special occasions. Led by Mrs. McGraw, the Art Club painted the backdrops for the Homecoming pep rally. This year they decided to pep up Mrs. McGraws art room. They voted on a design of an arrow covering the four walls. They painted this in festive colors to produce a happier place to have art class.

These three clubs were a vital part of Prep productions from assemblies to plays. Without the cooperation of these three groups, these activities would not have been complete. Thanks for all the hard work put into making these productions a success.

Leaders of the Pack

The senior high student council, under the leadership of student body president Jack Crawford and sponsor Mrs. Lindsay, helped to make the 1986-87 school year at Prep a success. Through the Thanksgiving food drive, Candlelighter's Christmas party and clean-up day, the student council contributed to areas both in and out of school. The junior high student council also had a successful year with fund raisers and school activities. Under the leadership of student body president Drew Martin and sponsor Mr. Roach, the junior high student council made the junior high a great place to be. Also, members of the council exhibited the leadership qualities that make them the "Leaders of the Pack."

Another Successful Season

Across the Board

It was another prime year for Prep sports. The varsity football team ended up runner-up in Academy Class AAA with an 11-1 record, the only defeat coming at the hands of Parklane 7-6 in the championship game. On the basketball court Prep rose to both the South and State AAA titles, reaching the finals in the Overall Championship before bowing to eventual champion Magnolia Heights. Prep took 3rd place with an easy win over MRA in the consolation game. The girls team will lose just two seniors and this boost of experience should benefit next season's squad. On the baseball field, Coach Kinnison hopes good work habits and determination will carry this years team all the way. Last year the team went 21-10 and reached the Academy finals before losing to JA. The soccer team finished 10-1 and outscored the opposition 77 to 13. Bryan Bunch led the team in goals scored. The tennis team has a sixteen year undefeated streak dating back to it's inception in 1970. This years team expects to make it seventeen. Softball, swimming, and golf look to be in steady hands, and track is gearing up for another successful season. In fact, it looks that way all across the board for the sporting Pats this season and next.

Melinda Latimer, Leigh Edgar, Jewell Thurber, Susan Stegall, and Mary Elizabeth Russ share a smile and a laugh after a hard days practice.

"Truly a Team Effort"

Entering the season with little star potential and lots of determination, the '86 Patriots came within one game of the Academy title. A hard-working defense held opponents to just seven touchdowns all season, hanging tough to the tune of 4.4 points allowed per game, including 7 shutouts. Mark Maloney and Will Edgar received team awards and All-Conference honors for their performance at defensive end and defensive back, respectively. Punter George Blackburn and defensive lineman John Raines also made the All-Conference team.

The ball was in good hands offensively. Junior Will Crosby led the team in receptions with 30 and in all-purpose yardage with 814, while team MVP Steve Higginbotham rushed for 565 yards to lead the team in that category. David Saik passed at a 53% clip and racked up 1341 yards and 6 touchdowns through the air, sneaking in for 7 more on the ground. Tailback Joel Bishop led the team in scoring with eight touchdowns, and Jack Crawford earned team honors for his work on the offensive line. All five made All-Conference.

The 11 wins notched by the Patriots this season are the 2nd highest amount in Prep history-truly a team effort.

Patriot Spirit

Once again, the 1986-87 cheerleaders proved successful for Prep through hard work and high standards. Although they were unable to attend any cheerleader camps during the summer, this did not stop them from practicing at 6:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., painting spirit signs, and planning pep rallies. Through their clapping hands, pom-pom routines, partner stunts, and pyramids, they lend enthusiasm to the variety of school activities that capture their interest and talent. Whether hostessing out-of-town cheerleaders or leading the cheering support of the student body for their team, a Prep cheerleader manages to show spirit, loyalty, pride, energy, and most of all, a smile.

Junior High Cheerleaders:

Enthusiasm At Work!!

The Junior High cheerleaders supported the Little Pats all the way this year. Their enthusiasm cheered the Pats on to a winning season in both football and basketball. Through hard practices, winning smiles, and unlimited enthusiasm, the cheerleaders boosted both the team's spirits and the crowd's also. The Junior High cheerleaders were responsible for planning pep rallies, making favors for players, painting signs, and cheering at all the games. The Winning Bunch

The Junior High Football team ran their undefeated streak up to four years and a 30-0 record. The team ran over Indianola allowing them to score only late in the game. They crushed Woodland Hills and squeaked by Parklane. At home the team beat Jackson Academy in a game for bragging rights. Prep dominated again over MRA. Then the team beat out Copiah and Washington to end the season. A solid defense and a good offense made this year as good as the past three. In appreciation, a day was proclaimed Coach Mac Day. Congratulations to the team, managers, and coaches for doing a great job.

The Beginning Pats

The seventh grade team battled uphill throughout a season with many injuries and disappointments. The team finished with a 2-4 record though they lost two heartbreakers in overtime. The season looked bright for the Patriots with a 22-0 thrashing of Parklane. A week later they were edged out by Washington 0-6. Later they won against Copiah 7-6. The next game was also against Copiah and Prep lost 6-14 in triple overtime. Parklane then got revenge against Prep in overtime. At the last game Washington won 6-12. Shooting for Success

Under the able leadership of Bobby West the '86-'87 Patriots reached the Academy finals. Solid production from Paige Purvis, Wes McCubbins, Chris Hughes, and Ben Roberson led the way. Following a "slow" 9-4 start, Prep rolled off 15 straight regular season wins and 5 more in the playoffs before falling to eventual champion Magnolia Heights. The loss snapped Prep's state title string at three straight, but the Patriots extended their string of AAA championships to four in a row. Workmanlike offense and a tenacious zone defense spelled success for the basketball Pats this year.

Earning Experience

The B-Team, led by Coaches Bobby West and Les Triplett, is made up of juniors competing in Academy games, cutting their teeth and earning experience for varsity action. This years team, led by Philip Blount, Mike Zadroga, Phil Smith, David Dausman, and the Thompson twins, Jim and Ted, finished 5-1 while posting impressive wins over the likes of JA and Woodland Hills. Amazingly, the one loss to MRA was the 1st loss ever suffered by the B-Team. Their continued success bodes well for Prep's basketball future.

Onward Lady Pats!

The Senior High girls start basketball on the second day of school. (This does not include summer practices.) Their first goal was to survive conditioning week. Conditioning includes running, shooting, step ups, sit ups, jump ropes, and wall sits. The main two to three hour practices do not start until October, then in November the season officially begins. The season was less than successful in the win-loss column. The Girls ended up with only five wins, yet the team members learned how to lose gracefully and developed the strength to give their best throughout the season. They never gave up. They kept on fighting, and with every game they got better. With each loss the girls learned a new lesson. They may have not been winners on the court, but they were winners off the court and within their hearts. The 86-87 team had a lot of talent in each girl. Each girl contributed part to the team whether they were playing or sitting on the bench. The team will lose two players—center, Melinda Latimer, and point guard, Leigh Edgar. Next year is sure to be a better year.

Ups and Downs

The Junior High Boys team had a good year. The 8th blue went 6-2 losing only to Prep's other team and Brandon. The 8th grade white team also went 6-2 losing to the blue team and also to Magnolia. The Junior High Boys had a fair season going 10-8 on the year. The year was a roller coaster ride with big wins and losses. They lost key games to JA and got the better of MRA in two out of three. The team stayed even throughout the entire season till the last week where they won four and lost only two. Due to this streak of winning, the Junior High Boys can call the basketball season a success.

Shooting For Success

The 8th grade girls team opened the season by beating Central Hinds by 8. Lissa Middleton led all scorers with 7 points. The girls then humiliated Woodland Hills 49-11 with a strong team effort. Prep was edged out by Brandon despite Paige Neville and Karla Whitwer combining to score 18 points. The girls rebounded to beat Central Hinds by 15. Neville had another strong effort against Jackson Academy, but it was in vain as the girls lost by 1 in overtime. They had a great season with a winning record.

Their other teammates make up the Junior High team. The Junior High girls had a roller coaster season going 5-11. Jackson Academy and MRA defeated the girls twice. The girls beat Parklane twice and Woodland Hills three times. Ashley Hollis and Whitney Stone led the Patriots against East Holmes, but the girls lost to them and Copiah. Bel Bowen scored 11 against MRA but in a losing effort. Bowen scored a season high of 21 in a 4th quarter rally to beat Parklane by 3. Copiah crushed the lady Pats followed by two losses to Hillcrest to end the season.

Both teams eagerly look forward to achieve success as part of the high school varsity teams.

Young and Fierce!

The two seventh grade boy teams experienced good seasons this year. The red boys went 7-1 losing only to M.R.A. after beating them once. They had wins over Copiah, JA, and Woodland Hills. The blue boys went 6-2, losing twice to the red boys. They blew out Copiah, M.R.A., JA, and Woodland Hills. In the first red-blue game, Doug Hindman led the reds with seven, and Benji Bailey led the blue with 6. In the final game between the two, it went into overtime. Bailey led the blues with eight as they lost by only a field goal. Cratin Luckett scored eighteen points for the red.

The seventh grade girls red team started off the season edging out Woodland Hills by 1. Kimberly Dalehite scored 6 fourth quarter points to win the game. Under Coach Nell Bradford, the red team went on to lose to M.R.A., despite Wesley Kendrick's 10 points. The red crushed the Copiah blue team as Kendrick and Dalehite combined for 17 points. In the red-blue game, the blue won, 21-14. Michelle Hardy led all scorers with 11 points.

Soccer on the Rise

Soccer is the sport on the rise. It is made of both strength and finesse. Although they broke their two year winning streak, the soccer team ended the seaason with a 10-1 record. There were several good players and leaders from each grade. The team opened the season under the new coaching of Paul Milette, a junior at Belhaven College.

The Soccer team won all of the games they played except the last one to Jackson Academy. The leading scorer with over twenty-four goals was Brian Bunch. Other outstanding players were Glenn Melvin, David Dausman, and Ralph Yelverton. Soccer has become, like other sports at Prep, Number one in the state.

Patriots Strike Again

The 1986 Patriot baseball team had a successful year. The Pats had a 21-7 record for the regular season. They also won the South AAA title and advanced to the State AAA finals against Washington. Senior Maurice Bartlett led the pitching staff with an 11-2 record. Other Seniors, Steve Powlett, Steve Horner, and Steve Higginbotham guided the Pats through a productive year. Under the able leadership of Coaches Mike Kinnison, Rusty Otts, and Gary Noble, the Patriots look forward to next year when many top players return.

The Girls Bat Up!

Softball

One of the most interesting girls' sports going on in the spring is softball. Armed with only bats, softballs, and a few experienced players, Ms. Lynch set out to turn the players into a respectable softball team. Sporting new jerseys and almost a whole new team, these Lady Patriots went into their first three games with high spirits. Slowly, but surely, everyone's efforts began to pay off, and the team spirit grew. This team spirit helped them get through some tough losses to teams like Brandon and Pillow. Even though they didn't have a winning season, they did have a lot of fun. The team spirit and Prep Pride exhibited by Prep's Softball Team is just one more example of the undefeatable Patriot Spirit.

Tracksters

Senior high track is a physically demanding sport. Members of the team are required to go to practices every afternoon either during sixth period or after school. During practices the tracksters ran a specially designed regimen to get the in shape. Field events people also spent long hard hours perfecting their style. Shortly after spring break the track meets start and continue into the first weeks of May. In the final track meet, the state, the teams came out victorious with the girls placing seventh and the boys second. Under the leadership of coach John McInnis, the Prep tracksters pulled through to victory.

Closing the Gap

The junior high track team had a very successful season under Coach John MacInnis. The boys won numerous track team meets. The girls varied with the boys in placing first or second, though occasionally the girls would finish third. Both teams finished high in the Prep Invitational. Finally, at the end of the year the boys won the south AAA meet overall. The girls also did well finishing third.

The cross country had an incredibly successful year. With the help of Coach Russel, the Patriots captured either first or second in every meet. The cross country team traveled to Greenwood, Greenville, Indianola, and Copiah to compete with teams from all over the state. Members of the boys cross country team are Andy Till, Philip Hunter, Henry Yates, Rea Hederman, Brian Jefferies, Alex Guidry, David Bobo, Spencer Powers, Keith Carter, and Robert Paine. Members of the girls cross country team are Mary Elizabeth Russ, Carla Russell, Laura Daschbach, Heather Filbeck, Margaret Minor, Elizabeth Duperier, and Roopa Mehendale.

Shooting for Par

This years Basketball Intramurals began in April. The commissioner of this extraciricular event was Student Body Vice-President David Emerson. He chose several refrees to help him like, Monty Montgomery, Scott Prewitt, Jeff Redding, and Jack Crawford. The tournament had both a girls and a boys bracket, each with double elimination. The girls division was made up of five teams. The overall winner was "Them", a junior team. They beat the "Delites" and then the "B & J Babes", twice. The coaches for "Them" were Barrie Aden and Jewell Thurber.

The boys division was made up of many more teams. Their overall winner was "the Camel Jockeys", a senior team. In the final game they defeated the junior team known as the "Dead Squirrels". This years Intramurals were a great success and had much participation.

The Jackson Prep golf team had another fine season, winning their 4th consecutive Overall State Golf Championship. The Patriots won 5 tournaments, finished second twice, and third once. In the Hilton Head Prep Invitational, the Patriots finished 5th ina 20 team field from 5 states. The Patriots were lead by Junior Rett Crowder, who won medalist honors in 7 of 9 tournaments. Tommy Abernathy and Luke Abney played well all year and accasionally captured a medalist honor. Ken Lacoste, Mara Whitfield, and Kevin Spence all played well for Prep. The golf team was coached by Les Triplett.

Prep's golf team was: Coach Triplett, Tommy Abernethy, Mara Whitfield, Ken Lacoste, Luke Abney, Rett Crowder, and Kevin Spence.

The Tennis Legend Continues

The Jackson Prep Senior High tennis team completed a successful 1987 season. Coached by John Good, the Patriots defeated local rival, Jackson Academy, two times. The Rotary Club of Chattanooga hosted the 31st annual tennis tournament. In the competition Mary Preston Hays led the girls to a socond place finish. She won the singles championship and teamed with Margaret Minor to capture the doubles title. Richard Yates won the singles division, and the Prep boys received third place. To end the season, the invincible Patriots entered the state tournament at Parham Bridges, where they were named the South AAA, AAA, and overall champions in Mississippi. As a result of the hard work of the boys and girls teams, the Prep winning tradition continues.

Jr. High Hits the Net

The junior high tennis team, under Jan Barnett, had only one match this year. The team made the most of it, though. They traveled to Natchez where they beat Trinity 12-4. This score is both the boys and girls. The team lost only four games on the way to their perfect season.

The junior high soccer team had a perfect 3-0 season. The team had two wins over Jackson Academy and one over Madison Ridgeland Academy. Under Coach Paul Millette, the team continued Prep's winning tradition.

Perfect form is one reason why the junior high had such a successful season.

Spring Student Life

Spring Is In The Air

As the warm breeze blows out the cold the last thing on a student's mind is class work. Even though exams were right around the corner, there were more important events to ponder. The prom, held at the Holiday Inn Medical Center on April 11, was a popping success, as was the first annual senior high derby day with its water balloon pops and tosses. Several students involved in the play continually asked the question, "WHODUNNIT?" as parents, students and teachers flocked to the auditorium on April 29, 30 and May 1 to find the answer. Battle of the Bands was still a loud affair even though Mr. Pratt addressed the PAT in the auditorium, a rather serious function. Rounding out the spring activities were the junior and senior high class days which honored a wealth of students for their academic and extra-curricular achievements as well as choosing a group of seniors which would represent Prep in the 1986-87 Hall of Fame. With fragrant flowers and warm breezes, the spring of 1987 was truly a wonderful time of year.

Addicted to Style

It's 95° and not a cloud in the sky. Why are people wearing jackets and sweaters—to fight a gone-mad air conditioner. But the frigid conditions didn't discourage fads and fashions.

In a frenzy students gathered in the fading moments of summer to rearrange their wardrobes and get "just the right look". This was the year guys grew more daring to get the rugged look . . . Military-like crew cuts were worn with pride. The revival of miniskirts and ribbons in girls' hair had far from diminished. Pumps in metallic neons decorated the halls. Reeboks of all shapes and colors squeaked with delight. Let's not forget the shades . . . Ray Bans. Prepsters not only kept up with the ever changing fashions but also had fun doing it.

Alan Taylor and George Blackburn display hairstyles popular with the guys.

Reeboks of all types were worn.

The Prime Time Crime

The curtain opened, the lights went down, and for three magical nights the Jackson Prep auditorium stage was transformed to the mysterious Shropshire Manor, home to greedy, brickering relatives, a murderous Phantom, and the biggest cast yet for Kojacket, Borotta, Charlie's Devils, and the rest of the fearless detectives. The Prime Time Crime, the 1986-1987 school play, won rave reviews from students and faculty alike. Crime was made possible through the diligence and patience of Mrs. Bonita Murphy, who had to handle one of the biggest casts in memory.

The play opened on April 29th and had its final performance the night of May 1st, after which there was a cast party at Warren Speed's house.

Jackson Prep's Elite

Jackson Prep's 1987 senior class was really awesome. Fourteen seniors were chosen to be National Merit semi-finalists. Twelve of them went on to become finalists. Eric Chisolm, Prep's Star Student, became Mississippi's Star Student. Kim Smail won the title of Hinds County Junior Miss, and the selected soloist in the Delta State Choir. Victor Smith was elected treasurer of the Mayor's Youth Council. Jonathan Smith was the Exchange Club's Student of the month. Ben Roberson won the District Optimist Club's essay contest. Rounding out the class of '87 was Julie Povall with the Young Artists Solo Competition win. These seniors, are truly Prep's elite class.

The two honor societies at Prep, Mu Alpha Theta and the National Honor Society, showed their spirit as they helped others. Mu Alpha Theta sponsored a breakfast. The National Honor Society passed out fliers in Jackson neighborhoods, for the Jackson library system. These clubs encouraged Prep students to excell in academics.

A Night To Remember

It was a spectacular event that occurred on April 11, 1987. The setting was the Medical Center Holiday Inn Ball room and the event was the Junior sponsored prom, given for the seniors. It was a night to remember. At 9:00, couples, dressed in tuxedos and new dresses, began pouring into the pink and white balloon filled room. They were dancing to the band 'Avalanche', and the building was shaking. Excitement was everywhere as couples and groups had their pictures made. At 1:00, the dance ended but the fun continued. There was a breakfast for each grade, given by a class member. The breakfast was a chance to speak to friends and to get off your feet. At about 2:00, things began to quiet as the night came to an end.

A Day of Honors: Senior High Class Day

The 1987 Senior High Honors Day was one to remember. High achieving sophomores, juniors and seniors were recognized for their accomplishments in front of their applauding peers. After the invocation by Victor Smith the girl's ensemble choir sang "Hold On To Your Dreams" and "Yesterday", Two bittersweet views on graduation. Then Ben Roberson welcomed the audience and presented Mr. Jesse Howell with a plaque honoring the departing headmaster, naming the Prep library after him. Mr. James Roberts welcomed the audience and announced the scholarships accepted by seniors and then introduced State Star Student Eric Chisolm. Eric presented Mrs. Regina Galloway with the honor of Star Teacher. In closing Student Body President Jack Crawford encouraged the departing senior to reach for the stars and challenged Junior Class President Monty Montgomery and the rest of the class of '88 to do the same.

Reaching For the Top

The Junior High had class day on May 14. The ninth grade class graduated with honors. Numerous awards were handed out by Mr. Roach and Mr. Howell. The freshmen paraded in to Pomp and Circumstance played by Janet Smith. Todd Perkins gave the pledge with Drew Martin giving the greeting. Later, York Craig reviewed the year telling about past projects and events. The awards given out included the Danforth and American Legion, science fair winners, and subject choice winners. Afterwards, the graduates went to Rice Acres while the 7th and 8th graders had derby day.

Derby Daze

Derby day was held for the seventh and eighth graders after class day. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves inspite of the rain. The rain forced the events indoors with the seventh graders in the old gym and the eighth graders in the new gym. There were several old and new events. The pyrimiad was there along with the three-legged race. There was a pillow fight and also an event that made you pass water in a cup with many holes. There was also an event not planned, a waterbucket war in the old gym. All the homerooms did great in trying to capture first place. Senior High derby day was held April 28th. Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors competed in events such as the Jello slurp, Izzy Dizzy, Chug-a-lug, and the tug-of-war. The games were started when seniors Victor Smith and Lavelle Sullivan lit the torch.

This was a day for Senior High students to leave the monotonous class rooms and have fun in the sun.

The Best of The Class

The Hall of Fame is an honor which is reserved for seniors who have distinguished themselves in the academic and co-curricular activities covering the spectrum of life at prep. Many things they have participated in are athletics, band cheerleading, Alpha Sig, Key Club, Mu Alpha Theta, National Honor Society, Student Council, SENTRY, EARTHWINDS, and PRECIS. Exemplary character, sound scholarship, quality leadership and unselfish service to the school and community are several characteristics to this years Hall of Fame.

Prep Pride

The Senior High and Junior High classes reflect the great pride at Prep. Students favorably represent Prep Pride both in their classes and school work as well as in their extracurricular activities.

Seventh graders approached the school year with apprehension, but they soon found that life at Prep was both work and play. They plunged into extracurricular activities such as Pep Squad and The Talent Show.

Eighth graders moved up the social totem pole at Prep and set the example for the newcomers by participating in football, basketball, and ABC testing.

The Freshman Class ruled the halls of the Junior High as they faced tough academics as well as more demanding sports. Some ninth graders competed in varsity sports and some took advanced courses in many areas.

The Sophomores moved up to the Senior High and gave their contributions to Prep. They didn't let starting at the bottom of the totem pole again bother them as they helped the football, basketball, baseball, softball, golf, and tennis teams end the year with a winning season.

The Juniors prepared for their Senior year by taking college admission tests and trying to raise their G.P.A.'s. The Junior class contributed to varsity sports, planned and supported the prom, and raised money by selling Homecoming t-shirts and Valentine suckers.

The Seniors again led Prep in academics and many extracurricular activities. Many seniors received academic and sports awards for their outstanding abilities.

With these examples, it is no wonder why Prep students have so much pride in their school . . . PREP PRIDE!

Stacy Guy studiously tries to conquer idioms in Spanish.

"A WHOLE NEW WORLD of SCHOOL!"

Robert Paine

Last year as sixth graders, these students ruled their schools. They have come to Prep from all parts of Jackson and the surrounding area to create "a whole new world of school".

After learning their way around the Prep campus, the seventh graders proved that they were here to stay. More than half of the Class of '92 played basketball, football, were on the pep squad, were in the spelling bee, and the science fair.

As they became accustomed to the mandatory assemblies, changing classes six times a day, and the 3:15 locker jam, these seventh graders have made Prep proud.

Leading the Seventh Grade were Betsy Bartling and Rebecca Thomas.

ONE STEP FORWARD

The Class of '91 took one step forward when they entered the eighth grade. No longer were they the lowest on the totem pole. They were active in cheerleading, football, and basketball. The eighth grade also had a service project at the Mississippi School for the Deaf.

The entire school was "wowed" at the talent show as the eighth grade went on to win first place in "crowd appeal". They have proven to the rest of the school that they are worthy of leading the junior high next year as Freshmen.

Stuck in the Middle

Being stuck in the middle is often difficult, but the ninth grade came through with flying colors. Torn between the junior high and the senior high, the freshmen performed well. They were led by their President York Craig and Vice-President Todd Perkins.

During their last year of junior high The Class of 1990 proved that they were well prepared to enter high school. They showed their compassion for others by "adopting" a 5 year old girl at the Methodist Childrens Home and provided her with Christmas gifts. They also had a Valentine's Day Party for all of the young children at the Methodist Home.

As the ninth graders approached high school, they were active in football, basketball, and cheerleading. They began earning credits for their high school graduation as they prepared for their completion of junior high. As their sophomore year approaches, they are eager to begin their high school experiences.

Todd Perkins and York Craig led the 9th grade.

Down And Two To Go

The sophomores assumed their roles as newcomers to the senior high with anticipation and enthusiasm. After three years in the junior high, they finally received lockers in "the other building". Their schedules were quickly filled with the numerous clubs, dances, and sports. As future leaders of Prep, the tenth graders spent much time watching and learning from their older peers. The sophomore class learned much throughout the year. With this knowledge, they began to prepare for their future role as the leading class of Jackson Prep.

Leading the Class of '89 were Secretary Gayle McCaa, President Jim Brown, and Vice-President Amanda Mason. Not Pictured, Treasurer Jay Stroble.

Juniors Have

Class Spirit

The Junior Class of 1986-1987 was involved in more Prep activities than ever before. Class spirit increased as the Juniors realized they had become "upperclassmen."

Homecoming '86 was especially successful for the Junior Class. Its float was highly competitive with the other classes. More importantly, several talented Juniors danced their way to first place in the 50's dance contest.

A special class project for the Class of '88 was helping at Christmas at the Zoo. Many Juniors volunteered their time during the Christmas season to help with this event.

Of course, the Juniors also worked during 1986-1987 raising money for the successful Junior-Senior Prom. President Missy Barnett and Treasurer Margaret Miner organized such fund-raisers as the selling of Homecoming T-shirts, basketball programs, and Valentine candy.

With increased participation in school activities, the Juniors looked forward to the responsibilities of Senior leadership in 1987-1988!

"Our Circle is Breaking Up . . . Will We Cry?"

Clay Waters

Our Circle's breaking up. Six short years of high school have rolled up to the foot of a new beginning, college. What happens now? Ties will loosen and we'll tie on others. Will we regret? Maybe we could have tried harder. Will we cry? Maybe we could have done more. All the dates, the dances, the shallow hates and deep romances, all fade into blur like the receding twilight at the end of a long busy day. What will we remember? Poignant flashes. What will we forget? Almost everything: its looks, its shape; we'll forget exactly what it was. But we'll always have a secret notion of what it meant then. We can come to it in the dark and run our fingers along it, playing personal songs on our own gamuts of experience until memory and feeling harmonize to make us whole notes.

As we pass over this note and put our fingers to the next, God help us survive and thrive in the transition, and to keep us always standing tall, stepping forward, and rolling along.

John Raines laughs as Jack Crawford goes out of his way to point out something funny.

The officers chosen to represent the Senior Class are Jonathan Smith, Treasurer; Mandy McNames, Vice-President; Ben Roberson, President; and Janie Holman, Secretary.

Debbie Ho shows off her letter art that she proudly trapped in a piece of paper.

Woody Sistrunk and Isabel White prove they can "Shake It Up" during the homecoming 50's dance contest.

Senior Spirit

The seniors started the year off striving for excellence. School spirit was lifted as football games started, and the seniors attended anxiously to watch the Patriots obtain an 11 and 1 record. As Homecoming rolled around students participated in constructing one of the best floats the eyes of Prep had ever seen. Seniors went all out by dressing up as students from the 50's. Also the seniors won the dance contest (in their own minds), but not the judges.

As Basketball approached wild cheers were led by Lavelle Sullivan and Co. These cheers boosted the basketball team to the State AAA championship. Once again the "left field lounge" was installed at the 1st baseball game of the season. The '87 seniors started and continued it by yelling their own original cheers.

Seniors attended sporting events with enthusiasm and they were definitely a major factor in Patriot victories!

Class of '87: Proud but Free

Jackson City Auditorium was the place this last May 28th as Jackson Prep graduated another grand group of seniors. After an hour or so of waiting outside, laughing, tearing up, and silently praying they wouldn't trip up on those long gowns, the class of '87 filed into the auditorium under the proud brimming eyes of parents and friends. Jack Crawford led the invocation and pledge and Eric Chisolm and Elizabeth Martin gave their honor speeches. Board of Directors president William Boone gave a humorous account of the status of his position, and Jesse Howell presented honors as Mr. Boone presented the graduates with their diplomas. Senior Class President Ben Roberson led the benediction and the graduating seniors filed out to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance." Cries of freedom filled the rest of the long graduation night.

Elizabeth Martin, Valedictorian, delivers her honor speech on the pathways of life.

Eric Chisolm, Salutatorian, in many lauguages says goodbye to the class of '87.

Isn't this a handsome group of graduates.

Sam Dixon, Kim Covington and Steven Dear share a smile and a hug for the last time as high school seniors.

"Mrs. Lindsay are you sure this is the way it goes?"

Mr. Jim Roberts

A Man of Action

Jim Roberts is a special man. He can talk with teachers, parents and students, and on their level. He gives of his time freely without complaint, which is apparent during Saturday tests, various sporting events and dances where he is sure to be chaperoning. Have a question, ask Jim, if he doesn't know he will find out. Discipline problem, no problem he will handle it. If you are a teacher in need of a free period for a doctors appointment or sick loved one, sure he will keep your class. If you are a student in need of a friendly face, he will lend an ear or a shoulder. If you are parent and nothing seems to work, he will try his best to bridge that growing gap between student, teacher and parent. For a man who is always there when we need him, we as teachers, parents and students thank you.

Was it really an Exciting Year?!?

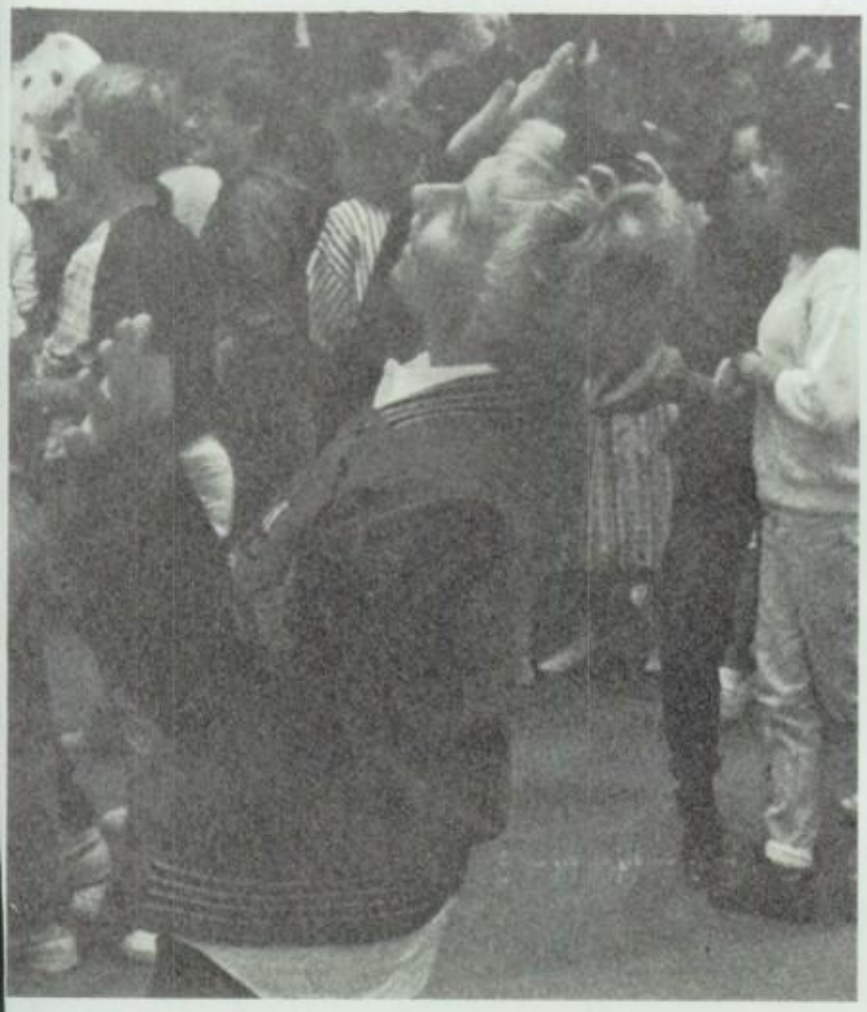
At the end of the year people will start looking back and start asking the question "Was it really an exciting year?!" The answer to this question will depend on who is asking the question. If you are still puzzled about what the answer to the question should be maybe these pictures will help.

The real side of Mary Preston Hays, Kelley Wallace, Becky Neal, and Miss Wofford.

Let's sing about those Monday blues.

Now don't you want this?

Thank goodness, the day is almost over!



Yeah, Mr. Lee is finally out of the room!!

Let's hop to it.

Say that one more time and you will regret it!!

Making Waves, Making Progress, Making a Difference

Students, staff, administration, and faculty this year made waves and progress which made a big difference in school life. As the year begins to end though, students start getting ready for their summer activities; while teachers prepare themselves for another year. There will be new faces taking place of the old, but there will be one thing that will stay on and that is the tradition of progress and excellence.

Greg Rozina and Stacie Haddox stop chatting in order to say "Goodbye" to Prep.

Susan Stinson, Chris Dong, and Donna Brown try to answer each others questions before Ms. Stuart's Political Science exam.

Victor Smith stops to wave farewell to Prep.

Mr. Lee tries to grade his final exam before grades come out.
